We also recommend that the effective performance of the cooker hood depends on the acrylic filter, which is found resting on the grille. If the filters do not have any text on them, or if metal filters are used, replacement and washing instructions are not applicable. The filters are not made of metal. This hood is fitted with a microswitch which allows the telescopic undercarriage to be closed without impact on the microswitch. This microswitch does not have an impact on the operation of the hood. Warning! If the telescopic undercarriage is closed with the hood open, the incandescent light bulb will be damaged. To remove the incandescent light bulb, take out the bulb and replace it with a new one of the same type Fig. 1A. If the product does not operate at all, we advise you to inform the Assistance Service of the manufacturer. If you cannot identify the cause of the operating anomaly, it is important that you inform the Assistance Service of the manufacturer.
